Woods Fires Cause $2 Damage An Acre

The landowner who burns his woods during spring "clean up" can figure on a loss of about $2 per acre, according to the state department of natural resources.

At least that much damage, said Commissioner of Natural Resources Zack D. Cravey, is caused to the timber and soil, which is robbed of important humus when a fire is allowed to rage in an uncontrolled fashion.

"Actually, this burning off does far more harm than good and will be shunned by the thrifty farmer," Mr. Cravey declared. "Young seedlings are destroyed and the older trees suffer a serious setback."

Also, he pointed out, food and cover for birds and small animals are destroyed by an uncontrolled fire. Even fish suffer because burned-off land allows silt and gravel to rush into the streams and makes them unsuitable for fishlife.

Funeral services were held Saturday in Ware Shoals at the Baptist church. Interment was in the city cemetery.

BULLOCH COUNTY LIBRARY HAS ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY

At the A.A.U.W. convention held at the Jackson Hotel last week, the Bulloch County Library had a most creditable display of nutritional literature, comprising books, pamphlets and posters. The library is indebted to the Bulloch county demonstration agent, Georgia Power Company, the Georgia Library Commission and W. P. A. for material for this display.

MEN OF WAR

General Electric men and women—thousands of them! Four typical scenes show the spirit with which they are tackling the grim job of producing for war!

1. Thousands of employees, only ten days after war declaration, gathered in mass meetings in most major G-E plants to pledge all-out war effort!

2. Almost 85 per cent of all General Electric employees signed up to buy U. S. Defense Savings Bonds totalling more than $20,000,000 a year!

3. A sign chalked by a G-E workman on a big machine being built for war. The sign carried this challenge to fellow workers: "Remember Wake Island!"

4. And day and night—around the clock—G-E workmen keep steadily at the most important job of building weapons and supplies for U. S. fighting men!

General Electric believes that its first duty to a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

—some excitement took place when one of the high school girls dropped a lit cigarette on some of the most scenery and set it on fire. but the poleman rushed in with a bucket of water and put it out before it had done much damage except burnt up the theme song which was rote on a card board. he always tolks several buckets of water to places where things is going on and this is not the first time he has stopped a big fire just before it got started. it was all a big suckers and in an other laud in miss jennie veeve smith's crown of progress ansoforth.

CEDAR LANE WON GAME
—the baseball game betwixt cedar lane and flat rock which was to be held last friday was played last saturday. these two teams had tied for first place and a large crowd was on hands to witness the fracas ansoforth.

—mudd lark got on the mound for flat rock but was knocked out in the second ending with 14 tallies flagged up against him and 10 errors. 7 balls 5 walks and 8 strike-outs at the bat. he claimed that had it not been for his arm he would have won the game with a no-hit record.

MARCH BENEFITS PAID IN BULLOCH

$1,466 in Cash Paid To Unemployed Workers Under State and Federal Plans

Unemployment benefits amounting to $1,466.00 were paid to workers in Bulloch county under the state unemployment compensation law in March. Commissioner of Labor Ben T. Huie has announced. Number of checks was reported at 140.

Represented by 59,423 checks, payments for the month totaled $552,074. The highest volume in any month since the benefit paying operations were started. The amount represented an increase of approximately $5,000 over the previous high record of $546,282 established in August, 1940, and more than doubled payments in March of last year. Increase over the previous month was about $64,000.

High volume of payments was attributed largely by Commissioner Huie to the unemployment growing out of conversion of industrial plants to war production, curtailment of construction work, and normal seasonal shutdowns.

The volume of unemployment as measured by new claims filed declined slightly, while continued claims remained at about the same level. Number of initial claims filed was reported at 5,884, as compared with 7,512 in February. Continued claims showed little change at 58,848.

Benefit payments by industry divisions, as compared with February, follow:

Industry	Feb.	Mar.
Agricultural serv.	1,770	1,491
Construction	117,329	133,212
Manufacturing	258,850	285,246

COLOMBIA—AGE-OLD TREASURE CHEST

If the coffee bean has been given place of honor in the matter-of-fact ledgers of commerce where is kept the accounts of the Republic of Colombia, the emerald is gem serene in the romance of a country whose legend reaches far back of history's record of the New World.

When Columbus, on his fourth and last voyage, sailed along the Colombian coast, but without making any attempt at settlement of the country, on a high plateau in the Andean Cordillera, not far from where the capital city of Bogota now stands, there was prospering the kingdom of Chibcha. It was a nation of highly civilized aborigines not unlike the Incas of Peru. The Chibchas knew about the emerald, and may have worshipped it.

After Columbus came Alonso de Ojeda, in 1502. Several times he tried to conquer the Chibchas, and failed. In 1536 three expeditions, led by Belalcazar, first lieutenant of Pizarro himself, and another by the tactful Jimenez de Quesada, converged on the lofty kingdom. Quesada's diplomacy prevailed where force had failed. By agreement with the Chibchas, his headquarters, now Bogota, was laid out near the old Indian capital, and explorations were started in all directions.

The opening of mines was begun in 1540. Today, clustered where the emerald is the true Colombian, is the fact that liberation from the yoke of Spain came at the hands of the ing alluvial. Great stretches have never been explored except by Indian hunters. As the Pan American highway and tributary roads push on west and other areas can be opened for mining.

Colombian territory covers 439,828 square miles. Within the nation's borders the Andean mountain system splits into three parts, joining again in the extreme south. So the rivers run north and south in the valleys between the mountains. The climate varies as widely as the altitudes. Tropical along the coasts, it is temperate in the higher regions inland. Bogota, with an elevation of 8,564 feet, is cool and healthful the year around.

There is a corresponding variation in products. Prominent in export trade are coffee, cacao, sugar cane, tobacco, banana, hardwoods from the vast forests, and vegetable ivory. These, with its precious stones, its platinum, gold, silver and other minerals, Colombia offers in exchange for much for that which it still needs in the way of foodstuffs, textiles, iron and steel products, railway supplies, school and office supplies, automobiles, agricultural and mining implements.

And not to be ignored in any reckoning is the fact that this republic is the only country in South America that has a seacoast on both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, with good ports on both, open to the trade of the world.

A veritable treasure chest though Colombia is, the gem supreme, in the mind of the true Colombian, is the fact that liberation from the yoke of Spain came at the hands of the

Pay Raises Denied Teachers By Board

Atlanta, April 14 (GPR).—In the face of repeated requests in the past, the state school board last week announced unanimously a report of a special committee recommending that there be no increase in the salaries of Georgia's 23,000 common school teachers at this time.

The report held out the hope, however, that the salaries will be raised as soon as state finances justify such action. The report was signed by Q. L. Garrett, of Waycross, chairman, John H. Woodall, of Woodland; H. A. Davidson, of Lafayette; W. W. McCay, of Eastonville, and Mrs. William T. Healy, of Atlanta.

Commenting on the action of the board, Governor Tammidge said: "It is all we can do—these are abnormal times. Why, when I was a boy, the high school students used to help out with the teaching. They can do it again."

Previously, Assistant State Superintendent J. I. Allman estimated the teacher turnover in Georgia in the last nine months was over 3,000, the majority of them leaving for jobs paying more money. He expressed the opinion that the only prospect of overcoming the teacher shortage in the state was to raise salaries.

TO AMEND CHARTER
GEORGIA—Bulloch County.
To the Superior Court of said County and the Honorable Thomas J. Evans, Judge thereof:
The petition of the Georgia Hospitalization Service, Inc., of Statesboro, Georgia, respectfully shows:

1. That it was duly incorporated by order of this court on the 27th day of April, 1938, with the principal office and place of business located in the city of Statesboro, Georgia. Reference to the original petition and order which are recorded in the office of the clerk of said superior court is hereby made for any and all purposes.

2. That by action of the stockholders at its regular annual meeting on the 10th day of February, 1942, it was determined to apply for an amendment to its charter, changing its principal office and place of business to Statesboro, Georgia. No other amendments or changes whatsoever are desired.

Not all of these men, by any means, will be combat troops. A major army is a world of its own, requiring every kind of skill, talent, craft and profession. For each man in the fighting lines, there must be several men behind the lines in the departments of supply, communication, transport, etc. The same thing is true of the navy and air force. But all of these men, whether they serve with guns or with tools, will be wearing uniforms, and all of them will be of civilian life.

The reasons for planning so vast a military establishment are obvious. We must figure on a long war whose end will be the actual land invasion of Axis countries. All hope that will not be necessary and that Germany and Japan will collapse. But it would be the height of folly to plan on that. We must, instead, plan on doing it the hard way.

What will be the effect of this demand for manpower for the military services?

First, it can be stated categorically that every man under forty without dependents, and without a job which is considered absolutely vital to the war effort, will be inducted, and soon. Men who are physically unfit, of course, will be exceptions—but men with relatively minor physical disabilities will be taken and placed in non-combat work.

Second, congress will probably pass a measure providing for government support of men's dependents. There will be considerable debate over this, and a great deal of argument concerning how the money should be provided. But it is thought certain that a law will eventually be approved. Then the millions of men in the 3-A classification will gradually be taken. The selective service boards have recently been reclassifying men with wives who are self-supporting, changing them to the 1-A bracket.

Third, the registration of older men (up to 64) will give the government exhaustive information concerning a reservoir of manpower which is too old for actual combat, but which can be called upon for other necessary duties. These men, for example, could be used for farm labor, and for work in war industries. They could release younger men for the fighting forces. If this war goes on long enough, it is considered inevitable that the government will decide where, when and for how much pay you will work.

Fourth, it is a definite possibility that we will eventually classify and conscript womanpower. That is already being done on a volunteer basis, and in time it may be done on an enforced basis. Women can drive cars, run elevators, serve as clerks in shops, perform many operations in war industry, and do a thousand and-one other jobs which are now being performed by men in the military forces need also.

What will be left for civilian production, civilian life?

The answer is clear: "The largest minimum of what is needed." If this war lasts long enough, the drain on our human resources will be as great as Germany's. The home fires will be kept burning by women, by men who are unfit for military service, and by old men. Then, when the war is over, the vast job which will start re-establishing life on a peacetime basis. In the meantime, any man in good health who is not beyond the registration age limits, should be prepared for sudden disruption of his economic, social and domestic life. This war is being fought "for keeps," and all the wealth of the nation, human and material alike, is dedicated to winning it.

NEWS OF THE WEEK OVER THE NATION

National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare of Today

At the present time there are slightly more than 2,000,000 in the American army. There are 1,000,000 more men in the navy, and about 500,000 in the air force. That marks an immense change from a few years ago, when the army was down to around 150,000 men, and the other military branches were also negligible so far as numbers are concerned. But the change that will take place in the future, according to current plans, will be infinitely greater—and will have an infinitely greater effect on the normal ways of the nation.

Top military men believe that the army will have to be increased to 8,000,000 men and perhaps still more—that the navy will have a personnel of around 2,000,000—and that the air force will also reach the 2,000,000 mark. In short, if this war continues, between 12,000,000 and 18,000,000 men will be required for military services.

Not all of these men, by any means, will be combat troops. A major army is a world of its own, requiring every kind of skill, talent, craft and profession. For each man in the fighting lines, there must be several men behind the lines in the departments of supply, communication, transport, etc. The same thing is true of the navy and air force.
